Chief of Psychiatry, Dr. Mitch Rodier

WHY MENTAL HEALTH CARE MATTERS

RESPONDING TO A GROWING NEED

Mental health challenges affect individuals and families across all ages and backgrounds. In the West Island community, demand for psychiatric services continues to rise, underscoring the importance of accessible, high-quality care close to home.

The newly renovated Psychiatry Department has been designed to:

- Enhance patient safety and comfort
- Provide therapeutic and calming environments
- Support recovery-focused care
- Foster dignity and privacy

Every space has been thoughtfully planned to promote healing, stability, and well-being. When individuals receive care in an environment designed with compassion and respect, it strengthens not only the patient — but the entire community.

“Thanks to donor support, our patients can enjoy a safe, engaging environment where they feel valued and cared for every day.”

THE IMPACT OF PHILANTHROPY

CREATING ENVIRONMENTS THAT SUPPORT RECOVERY

Government funding supports essential clinical services. Philanthropic support enhances the environment and experience of care.

Donor generosity has helped make possible:

- Renovated patient rooms designed for safety and comfort
- A welcoming recreational room for therapeutic activities
- A shared kitchen space that supports life-skills development
- A sports and activity room promoting physical wellness
- Modern nursing stations and consultation rooms
- Calming common areas that reduce stress and anxiety

These spaces go beyond treatment — they promote healing, resilience, and hope.

By naming a space within the Psychiatry Department, you directly contribute to creating an environment where recovery is possible.
